PUBLIC TO BE ADMITTED TO SCOTTISH RITE TEMPLE
Full Opportunity Will Be Given Later to See the Interior, It Is Announced.
"Full opportunity is to be given the public to visit and see the interior of the new House of the Temple at 18th and S streets northwest in the near future. This will be done after the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite for the Southern Jurisdiction shall have finished its biennial session, which will be held this week or the early part of next week."
So Sovereign Grand Commander George Fleming Moore has announced to a reporter for The Star. It has always been the custom to close the House of the Temple during the biennial sessions of the Supreme Council, and when these sessions were held at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, at 3d and E streets northwest, in the past, the Scottish Rite bodies have always called off their meetings and turned the custody of the building entirely over to the control of the Supreme Council.

Some Persons Slip In.
The mystic beauty of the new temple has aroused wide curiosity, and hundreds of visitors have attempted to gain access purely for sightseeing purposes. In some instances they have eluded the vigilance of the wardens at the door, hence it has been thought that exceptions should be made in the general rule excluding the public.
Grand Commander Moore said the interest of the public was well understood, and every opportunity will be afforded due time to gratify it, but it was imperative that the building be closed to the public during the sessions of the Supreme Council, in order to prevent interruptions of its business as to the over-crowding. The only exceptions authorized in this line are in favor of Scottish Rite Masons, who are in possession of what is known as "registration cards."

Presented With Handsome Gavel.
At yesterday's constitutional session a Sovereign Grand Inspector General H. W. Witcover of Georgia, of a handsome golden gavel, with gold ornaments and inscription, to the Supreme Council by Henry Lansburgh, 32d degree, of the Southern Jurisdiction, U. S. A. George Fleming Moore, 33d degree, Sovereign Grand Commander, by Henry Lansburgh, 32d degree, October 18, 1915. At the end of the handle is the embossed crest, in gold, of the Supreme Council. Grand Commander Moore presented the gavel on behalf of the Supreme Council in address that made quite an impression.
C. S. C. of Missouri also presented to the Supreme Council, for its museum, a brass medal commemorating the Lincoln campaign of 1860. On its face it bears in bas-relief the portrait of Lincoln, and on the obverse side a sketch of a man in military uniform, surrounded with the inscription: "Five rail splitter of the west, 1860." The medal was presented by Judge H. W. Pugh. "She purchased the tea in the sealed package and the coupon was imbedded in a fine and in Oklahoma purchase. She says she was told she was allowed to sell the tea. This business of giving these coupons with articles will have to be stopped. It is a lottery, and I intend to have storekeepers brought into court and will prosecute them if they continue to sell articles containing coupons."
The personal bonds of the storekeeper were taken not to repeat the offense.

WHOLESALESAERS ATTACKED BY ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Menace Community's Morals, Excise Board Is Told at Applications Hearings.
An attack by Albert E. Shoemaker, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League, on Washington's wholesale liquor trade, before the excise board today, has resulted in a hearing on the application of the league for a license to sell liquor to saloons. The board yesterday finished consideration of 239 retail applications.
Mr. Shoemaker declared that wholesale establishments even when conducted in connection with grocery stores in so-called residential districts have become a menace to the morals of the community than were the saloons that were eradicated when the Jones-Works law became effective.

Encourage Women to Drink.
He stated that the wholesale establishments encourage drinking among women, who can go into an establishment that has all the appearance of a grocery store and purchase either beer or whiskey in small quantities.
Protests were made by Mr. Shoemaker against the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, Delaware Valley and Virginia avenue breweries, and the National Capital Brewing Company, 1335-1357 D street southeast, on the ground that these establishments are located in residential districts.
By noon the board had heard twenty-two applications and there is a possibility it may complete the hearings by tonight.

Miss Mabel Blanchard, student in Columbian College at the George Washington University, has been elected vice president of the Women's University Club at the institution to succeed Miss Helen Short, who resigned to spend her senior year at Goucher College, Baltimore.
Officers of the club are arranging for a reception and entertainment for the students and faculty members of the nine departments of the university, to be held the night of November 6 in the assembly hall of the arts and sciences building, 2023 G street northwest.

DEATH OF MRS. E. W. MEYER.
Former High School Student Was a Daughter of Clayton H. Serrin.
Mrs. E. Wright Meyer of Wheeling, W. Va., who before her marriage last year was Miss Eleanor M. Serrin, daughter of Clayton H. Serrin of 1620 1st street northeast, died Monday and was buried in Wheeling, Maryland, according to word which has just been received in this city.
Mrs. Meyer had been ill only a few days, and besides her husband, is survived by two infants, a boy and girl, each one week old, her father of this city and a sister, Miss Evelyn Serrin. Mrs. Meyer was about twenty-four years old, was a graduate of Central High School and attended the Technical High School at one time.

COURT'S ORDER MARKS END OF NEWMAN CASES

Costs in Litigation to Unseat Commissioner Assessed Against Petitioner.
The word "final" was written to the Newman case proceedings today, when Justice Stafford of the District Supreme Court granted a judgment in favor of Commissioner Newman for costs of the proceedings to be taxed against William J. Frizell, the petitioner who questioned the eligibility of Mr. Newman to hold the office of District Commissioner.
Reversed on Appeal.
The court's order is based on the mandate of the Court of Appeals applying the lower court that the Supreme Court of the United States directed aside the finding of a jury that Mr. Newman was disqualified by reason of not having resided within the District for three years prior to his appointment. The mandate also directed the dismissal of the proceeding.
The amount of the costs was roughly estimated by the clerk today as $125.10. A formal judgment for this amount will be entered against Mr. Frizell in accordance with the order of the court.

Won in Lower Courts.
The claim of Mr. Frizell that Mr. Newman was disqualified was sustained by a jury, and on appeal the court of Appeals affirmed this finding. Chief Justice Shepard dissenting. On appeal, the Supreme Court of the United States, by a vote of 5 to 3, reversed the decision of the District Court of Appeals, and held that a taxpayer had no special interest in the office of Commissioner to sustain a proceeding to question the eligibility of an appointee to that office.

BANS SALE OF FOOD WITH "PRIZE" COUPONS

Assistant U. S. Attorney Given to Prosecute Such Merchants on Lottery Charge.
Storekeepers who sell packages of food containing coupons which call for some sort of a prize are liable to be arrested on a charge of conducting a lottery, according to Assistant United States Attorney Ralph Given.
It was disclosed today at a trial of the proprietor of a small store that packages of tea which she was selling contained a coupon bearing a certain number which called for a prize. The storekeeper pleaded guilty to the charge, through an interpreter, but declared she did not know she was violating the law.
"This woman ought not to be blamed so much," said Mr. Given to Judge Pugh. "She purchased the tea in the sealed package and the coupon was imbedded in a fine and in Oklahoma purchase. She says she was told she was allowed to sell the tea. This business of giving these coupons with articles will have to be stopped. It is a lottery, and I intend to have storekeepers brought into court and will prosecute them if they continue to sell articles containing coupons."
The personal bonds of the storekeeper were taken not to repeat the offense.

POLICE HOLD YOUTH FOR HOLD-UP IN MARYLAND

Royal B. Deming Said Also to Have Admitted Theft of $132 From C. W. Oliver.
Royal B. Deming, giving his age as sixteen years, and saying he was from North Cambridge, Mass., was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Barr and Burlington when he was found trying to dispose of a new bicycle.
"I fell off the wheel, and got so mad that I concluded I would sell it," said the young man.
At police headquarters, it is stated, Deming admitted having bought the bicycle from a man who he learned was C. W. Oliver, Barcroft, Va., and he also is said to have admitted having become a close friend of Mr. Oliver's home at Ammenale, Prince Georges county, Md., last Sunday.
Deputy Sheriff Palmer of Alexandria county, Va., took the prisoner to the county jail at Fort Myer Heights yesterday afternoon. He was learned that Mr. Oliver's home is in Fairfax county, however, and it will be necessary to turn the prisoner over to the authorities of that county.
Mr. Oliver told the authorities that he was robbed of $132 Wednesday. Bloodhounds were obtained from Occoquan, the police were told, but the robber was not located by them.
Yesterday afternoon a man was held up at the point of a pistol and robbed of $5, the youthful highwayman was turned over to the police when he was told that he had worked hard for it.
"That's right," the prisoner is said to have told the police, "I pointed at her, and when she told me she had worked for the money I tossed it back to her."
"You know," he added, "I wouldn't rob a person who works."

MELLEN IDENTIFIES TRAFFIC CONTRACT

Testifies Regarding So-Called Corsair Agreement at New Haven Trial.
NEW YORK, October 22.—Charles S. Mellen was expected to finish today the first part of his testimony concerning the consolidation of the New Haven railroad system, which he is giving in the trial of eleven of his former associates on charges of conspiracy to monopolize railroad traffic. When the hearing was resumed today Mr. Mellen had been led by counsel for the government up to the revelation of the relations between the New Haven and Boston and Maine railroads, and it was expected that he would take up that subject in detail today.
Mr. Mellen's replies to some of the questions asked by Frank M. Swacker of counsel for the government prompted Mr. Swacker yesterday to accuse him of being "frankly hostile to the government." The mandate also directed the dismissal of the proceeding.
The amount of the costs was roughly estimated by the clerk today as $125.10. A formal judgment for this amount will be entered against Mr. Frizell in accordance with the order of the court.

Witness Identifies Agreement.
Thus far Mr. Mellen has revealed that he was hired at a large salary by the New Haven to do nothing as vice president, because he had caused that road trouble as general manager of the New York and New England railroads. He described the rivalry between the Boston and Maine and the New Haven which led up to the "Corsair agreement," in which those two roads agreed to keep out of each other's territory. Mr. Mellen identified an agreement between the New Haven and the Boston and Maine Central to keep other New England roads from entering New York City.
Mr. Swacker first showed the witness a copy of the so-called Corsair agreement, which divided the transportation traffic of New England between the New Haven and the Boston and Maine on the Boston and Albany line.
Mr. Mellen explained that this was not the Corsair agreement, which was made on Mr. Morgan's yacht.
"The real Corsair agreement," he said, "covered a division of traffic between the New Haven and the New York Central at the Boston and Albany junction (at Springfield, Mass.) But I have always referred to this agreement here as the Corsair. It was made at Mr. Morgan's house."

Provided Exchange of Stock.
The witness identified the signatures of Mr. Morgan and other directors who signed the agreement and was then asked to identify minutes of New Haven directors' meeting, which disclosed the successful negotiation in 1892 of a lease of the New York, Providence and Boston, one of the New Haven's early competitors, through its steamship connections with New England.
The lease carried with it a contract under which stock of the New York, Providence and Boston was to be subsequently exchanged for New Haven stock, share for share, and the lease cancelled.
William Rockefeller, the minutes showed, was not present at the directors' meeting at which the lease was made. Mr. Mellen wrote a letter asking to be recorded as in favor of the proposition. Two years prior, other minutes revealed, the New Haven rejected a similar proposition.

ORPHAN BOY IS ADOPTED BY FORMER HELEN GOULD

"John Doe, No. 104," to Be Known Hereafter as Finley Jay Shepard.
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., October 22.—Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Miss Helen Gould, and her husband have adopted an orphan boy nearly five years of age, from St. Christopher's Home, in Dobbs Ferry. He was committed to St. Christopher's Home by the New York children's court, Manhattan, on an affidavit that he was without a home, had been abandoned, and had no visible means of being maintained.
The order of the surrogate recites that no parent or general guardian appearing for the boy, and it appearing that his moral, temporal, educational and other interests will be advanced, custody of the child is granted to Mr. and Mrs. Shepard.
The orphan adopted is to be known in future as Finley Jay Shepard. From a motherless youngster he has been changed suddenly into the son of one of the richest women of the United States. The orphan was found on the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, and after reaching St. Christopher's Home, he was noticed by Mrs. Shepard on one of her charitable trips. Last February John Doe, No. 104, as he was known in the home, paid Mrs. Shepard a visit at her 6th avenue home, and, in company with the two children of Frank J. Gould, also staying with Mrs. Shepard, was stricken with the chicken pox and made an enforced visit of unusual length. He has been in Lindhurst, Mrs. Shepard's place near Tarrytown, several times and moved there permanently from the home some days ago.
